Summary of FY2017 results

The Company reported an operating profit before tax of $3.4 million for the year ended 31 December 2017 (2016 transitional period: $3k) and an operating profit after tax of $3.0 million (2016 transitional period: $2k). Total comprehensive income, including unrealised gains on investments was $29.1 million for the year (2016 transitional period: $14.2 million). The increase in operating profit and total comprehensive income on the corresponding period is due to the sound performance of the investment portfolio during the 12 months to 31 December 2017 and the change in the Company's reporting period in the previous financial year.

In November 2016, the Company announced a change in its financial year end from 30 June to 31 December to better align the reporting periods of the Company to the underlying fund manager distributions. This report covers the 12 month period from 1 January 2017 to 31 December 2017. The comparative data in this report is for the six month transitional period from 1 July 2016 to 31 December 2016.

For the year ended 31 December 2017, the investment portfolio increased 13.4% while the MSCI AC World Index (AUD) rose by 14.5%. Since inception, the Company's investment portfolio performance has been achieved with less volatility as measured by standard deviation, 8.9% versus the Index's 9.8%.

Total shareholder return (TSR) for the year was 19.4%. This measure shows the return to shareholders being the change in the share price together with dividends reinvested. The TSR was driven by the sound investment portfolio performance of 13.4% and the share price premium to net tangible assets (NTA) at the end of the reporting period, with this measure not valuing the potential benefit of franking credits distributed to shareholders through fully franked dividends.

Chairman & Chief Executive Officer's Letter

Dear Fellow Shareholders,

We would like to thank you for your support of Future Generation Global Investment Company Limited (FGG or the Company) during the year ended 31 December 2017.

As you know, the objectives of the Company are to provide shareholders with an attractive investment and to provide a source of funding for Australian charities with a focus on youth mental health.

So it was pleasing that in October last year the Company made its annual investment of $3.0 million to improve youth mental health. Of this, $2.3 million was allocated to the eight FGG designated charities with the remaining $0.7 million contributed to other charities with Australian deductible gift recipient (DGR) status as nominated by shareholders holding 1 million or more shares.

As at 31 December 2017, the Company is on track to deliver its third annual investment of approximately $3.5 million for payment in October 2018. This would bring the total charitable investment since inception to $8.9 million.

We are deeply engaged in the projects that are funded by the Company and it has been an honour to be involved and see first-hand what your investment in the future of young Australians is achieving.

We have partnered with eight designated charities: beyondblue, Black Dog Institute, Brain and Mind Centre, Butterfly Foundation for Eating Disorders, headspace, Orygen – the National Centre of Excellence in Youth Mental Health, ReachOut Australia and SANE Australia.

Operating performance

In 2017, the Company achieved an operating profit before tax of $3.4 million and an operating profit after tax of $3.0 million. Total comprehensive income, including unrealised gains on investments for the year was $29.1 million representing the sound performance of the investment portfolio during the year.

For the year ended 31 December 2017, the investment portfolio increased 13.4% while the MSCI AC World Index (AUD) rose by 14.5%. Since inception the volatility of the Company's investment portfolio, as measured by its standard deviation, was 8.9%, while the Index was 9.8%.

Over the year, the appreciation of the Australian dollar continued to weigh on the performance of the portfolio, with the equity portion of the investment portfolio performing largely in line with the Index for the year. Total shareholder return (TSR) for the year was 19.4%. This measure shows the return to shareholders being the change in the share price together with dividends reinvested. The TSR was driven by the investment portfolio performance during the year and the share price premium to net tangible assets (NTA) at the end of the reporting period, with this measure not valuing the potential benefit of franking credits distributed to shareholders through fully franked dividends.

Early in the year, the investment portfolio was restructured by the Investment Committee, reducing the direct geographical exposure of some of the fund managers. Following the completion of the option issue in September 2017, we were pleased to welcome leading independent global investment manager Caledonia as a pro bono fund manager. The Company deployed existing cash within the investment portfolio with Caledonia.

Investment objectives and portfolio

The Company's primary investment objective continues to provide shareholders with long-term capital growth, by providing shareholders with diversified exposure to global equities. The Company's investment philosophy is based on the belief that the diversification of the portfolio is important in managing and mitigating risk and by having a number of different fund managers, the Company has access to a range of investment styles and strategies.

As at 31 December 2017, the investment portfolio was made up of 14 global fund managers with investments in 15 unlisted unit trusts. The global fund managers were Magellan Asset Management, Ironbridge Capital Management, Cooper Investors, Antipodes Partners, VGI Partners, Marsico Capital Management, Nikko Asset Management Australia, ManikayPartners, Ellerston Capital, Morpheic Asset Management, Neuberger Berman Australia, Paradise Investment Management, Avenir Capital and Caledonia.

Our investment portfolio is structured to provide a spread between three broad equity strategies: long equities, absolute bias, quantitative strategies and cash. The composition of the portfolio will vary over time in terms of strategies, funds and managers. The long equities portion of the portfolio includes exposure to large cap, mid cap and small cap stocks. As at 31 December 2017, the portfolio was 57.7% long equities, 31.3% absolute bias, 3.9% quantitative strategies and 7.1% cash.

Dividends

The Company provides shareholders with a diverse exposure to global equities and as such its returns are predominately delivered through capital growth. The Board is committed to paying fully franked dividends to shareholders, provided the Company has sufficient profit reserves and franking credits and it is within prudent business practices. In August 2017, the Board announced a fully franked dividend of 1.0 cent per share. The dividend was paid in October 2017.

No further dividend has been declared by the Board during, or since the end of the year. At this stage, the Board will consider a dividend payment following the June half year result, dependent on released profits from the fund managers over the next six months.

Fund managers and service providers

Shareholders have unprecedented access to leading global equity fund managers and make a significant contribution to youth mental health. This is made possible by the fund managers agreeing to forgo management and performance fees. Most service providers, your Directors and the Investment Committee also work on a pro bono basis.

We would like to thank our fund managers and service providers for their outstanding and continued generosity throughout the period. The value of the management and performance fees forgone by the fund managers for the period totalled $3.6 million and the value of the leading service providers, including the Board and Investment Committee working on a pro bono basis, totalled $0.7 million. These savings to shareholders exceed the annual donation to charities.

We would also like to thank all shareholders for being part of the Company's innovative approach to wealth creation which demonstrates that both shareholder and social returns can be achieved together.

Finally, thank you fellow Board and Committee Members for your continued support. We are very appreciative of the contribution of Amanda Gillespie, who has been the Chair of the Investment Committee since the Company's inception and resigned to take up a new executive role. We wish her every success and welcome Sean Webster, as the new Chair of the Committee.

Investment Committee Report

The Investment Committee of FGG is primarily responsible for selecting fund managers, managing the Company's investment portfolio and redeeming investments. The Company's Investment Committee consists of Sean Webster (Chairman), Aman Ramrakha, Chris Donohoe and Geoff Wilson, whose experience and qualifications are provided in the Director's Report.

For the year ended 31 December 2017, the investment portfolio increased 13.4% while the MSCI AC World Index (AUD) rose by 14.5%. Since inception, the Company's investment portfolio performance has been achieved with less volatility (or risk) as measured by standard deviation, 8.9% while the Index was 9.8%.

The FGG investment portfolio has been structured to provide a spread between three broad equity strategies: long equities, absolute bias and quantitative strategies, with a cash residual balance after investments are made. The composition of the portfolio will vary over time in terms of the allocation to each of the above strategies as well as allocating to various funds. The long equities portion of the portfolio is predominantly exposed to large cap and mid cap stocks with a very small allocation to small cap stocks. As at 31 December 2017, the portfolio was 57.7% long equities, 31.3% absolute bias, 3.9% quantitative strategies and 7.1% cash.

The investment philosophy is built on the principal that diversification across strategies combined with quality fund manager selection will deliver sound returns and reduce portfolio risk over time. As at 31 December 2017, the investment portfolio was made up of 14 global fund managers with investments in 15 unlisted unit trusts.

Early in the year, the investment portfolio was restructured by the Investment Committee, reducing the direct geographical exposure of some of the fund managers. The Company fully redeemed its position in Hunter Hall Global Equities Trust, Eastspring Investments Asian Dynamic Fund, Tribeca Global Return Fund and Insync Global Titans Fund. In September 2017, the Board was pleased to introduce Caledonia, a leading independent global investment manager to the portfolio. The Company deployed existing cash within the investment portfolio with the new investment in Caledonia.

The Investment Committee will continue to review and adjust the investment portfolio and will look to remove the last of the allocations away from Asian focused managers towards those managers with global investment mandates.

The Investment Committee notes that all managers have a belief that assessment of Environmental, Social and Corporate Governance (ESG) factors add value to investment returns and the large majority have an ESG Charter or Responsible Investment Policy in place.

Investment strategy allocation

LONG EQUITIES

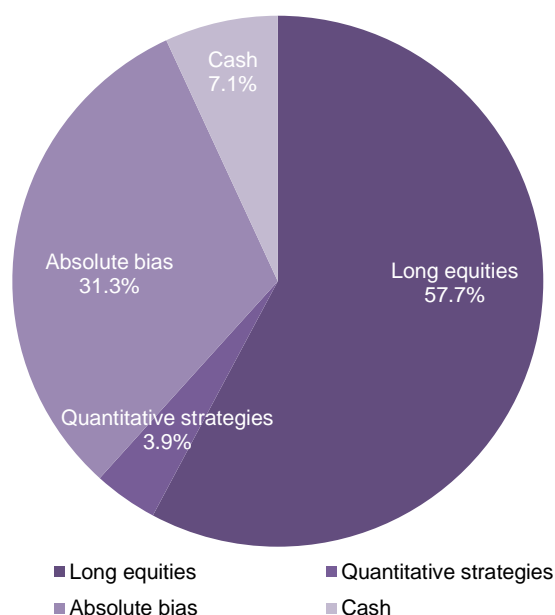

Investing in a portfolio of equities based on the expectation the underlying equities will increase in value within a certain time horizon. Each equity represents an ownership claim in an underlying company which is generally listed on a public stock exchange. The long equities portion of the portfolio includes exposure to large-cap, mid-cap and small-cap stocks.

QUANTITATIVE STRATEGY

A style of investment management where quantitative techniques are used to analyse markets in order to ascertain information about future price movements. These are generally rules-based and applied in a systematic manner. A quantitative strategy seeks to replicate a fundamental investor without human biases influencing investment decisions.

ABSOLUTE BIAS

An investment strategy that seeks to generate returns, irrespective of the performance of traditional asset classes. These strategies use innovative investment techniques (including but not limited to short selling and leveraging) to profit from rising and falling markets, providing portfolio protection in the event an equity market experiences a significant fall.

Risk attribution

The following table and graph examine the various risk factors associated with the blend of global equities managers for the FGG portfolio. Risk attribution focuses on the estimation, analysis and decomposition of Tracking Error (and Tracking Variance) risk. The decomposition of the Tracking Variance identifies the principal sources of risk and further reveals risk compounding and risk offsets (via the Cross-Terms).

Tracking Error	2.1%
Coverage	30.1%
Persistence Ratio	0.8
Portfolio Beta	0.85

Portfolio Effective Stocks	240.3
Benchmark Effective Stocks	420.2

*For a description of the key risk measures listed above, please refer to Appendix A on page 8.

Risk Attribution

The above table shows that 70% of the portfolio risk comes from market risk or the extent to which the portfolio exposures to different equity markets differs from the benchmark. The next biggest contributor risk is currency at 45% and this shows the extent to which currency exposure differs from the benchmark. The biggest factor reducing risk in the portfolio is the Market Xterms which is the degree to which returns between the portfolio's currencies and markets move in tandem. In this case these two factors do not move in tandem and therefore reduce overall risk.

Appendix A – Risk estimates glossary

Tracking Error	Measures the degree to which the performance of the portfolio varies from that of the underlying benchmark, in this case the MSCI AC World Net Return Index. Tracking error shows an investment's consistency versus a benchmark over a given period of time. A lower tracking error means that the investment will deliver a return closer to the underlying benchmark. The FGG portfolio tracking error of 2.1%, as shown in the Risk Estimates table, is low.
Coverage	The coverage ratio is the market value of the securities that are in the portfolio as compared to the benchmark. The ratio of 30.1% above means that 30.1% of the value of portfolio overlaps shares in the MSCI AC World Index.
Persistence ratio	A practical indicator of the extent to which a forecast Tracking Error may be underestimated due to time-varying weights and trending in returns.
Portfolio beta	Shows the degree of sensitivity of the portfolio to a 1.0% change in the underlying Index. As shown in the table, the FGG portfolio beta is 0.85 and this means that if the Index rose 1.0% the portfolio would increase by 0.85% and likewise if the portfolio fell 1.0% it would fall 0.85%. The beta of 0.85 is well within what would be expected from a well-diversified portfolio.
Portfolio/Benchmark Volatility	Shows the degree to which the returns of the portfolio move around from their long-run average. It can be thought of as a measure of the risk in the portfolio. The volatility (or risk) for the portfolio of 8.7%, as shown in that table, is below the underlying Index, which is 9.9%.
Correlation	The correlation coefficient is a measure that determines the degree to which two variables' movements are associated. In this case it measures the degree of association between movements in the FGG portfolio and the underlying Index. A correlation of 0.9 is reasonably high and shows that the portfolio returns are reasonably highly correlated to movements in the underlying Index.
Portfolio/Benchmark Actual Stock	Indicates the number of stocks in the portfolio as well as the number of stocks in the benchmark.
Portfolio/Benchmark Effective Stock	Shows the number of stocks in terms of reducing the portfolio risk from holding a specific stock, it is a measure of how diversified a portfolio is. The 240 effective stocks count for the FGG portfolio is very high as any diversified holding of stocks above about 30 stocks indicates a good degree of diversification. No single stock holding can overly impact the portfolio.

Charity Report

We are proud to support our eight designated charities who are helping to improve the lives of young Australians who are affected by mental health issues. Our goal is to promote the mental health, wellbeing and resilience of young Australians from 0-25 years by supporting smarter service system development and investing in effective programs and services so that young Australians can have access to the information, services and support they need, when they need it, to maintain their mental health and lead an active and engaged life.

During August 2017, shareholders voted their charitable allocation and we were thrilled by the response. Thank you all for your active engagement in the allocation process.

The specific allocation to each charity was determined by your votes and directions, as shown in the table below, with the Board distributing the undirected monies on a pro-rata basis between the designated charities.

As at 31 December 2017, the Company is on track to deliver its third annual investment of approximately $3.5 million for payment in October 2018.

*Directed by shareholders with 1 million or more shares. These shareholders have the ability to direct their donation voting allocation to any non profit organisation of their choosing, provided the organisation has Deductible Gift Recipient (DGR) status.

Charity Report

Information on the projects the designated charities undertook with monies from their allocation of the $2.4m annual investment in 2016 and progress to date for the year ended 31 December 2017 is detailed below. The investment was paid in October 2016:

beyondblue is an independent, not-for-profit organisation working to protect everyone's mental health and improve the lives of individuals, families and communities affected by anxiety, depression and suicide. In 2017, beyondblue again ranked in the top 10 list of Australia's most reputable charities across all sectors (AMR Charity Reputation Index, 2017).

As a major partner, FGG is helping to fund beyondblue's Healthy Families program. Their new research on children's resilience and the Healthy Families website is helping to support professionals, parents and other caregivers give children aged 0-12 a mentally healthy start in life.

In 2017, with the FGG investment of $231,579 received in October 2016, beyondblue established a strong new evidence base on what works to build resilience in children. They published this evidence in a new practical guide to support professionals working with children aged 0-12 in education, health and community-based settings. It's known that half of all lifetime mental health issues emerge by the age of 14 and the research shows that increasing resilience among younger children could potentially prevent mental health issues during childhood and later in life. beyondblue will make this guide widely available to professionals in early 2018.

Parents and carers can find simple, practical tips on the Healthy Families website to support them to build resilience at home.

beyondblue's independent evaluation of the Healthy Families website shows that over half a million people visited the website in the opening year and visitors were highly satisfied with the content provided. 88 per cent said they would come back to the website for information and 87 per cent said they would recommend it to others.

With the generous support of FGG shareholders, beyondblue will continue to build on this important work in 2018 to support professionals, parents and carers to raise mentally healthy kids.

Website: beyondblue.org.au

Black Dog Institute is a leader in diagnosis, early intervention, prevention and treatment of mental illnesses, and at the forefront of suicide prevention. As a translational facility, research learnings are rapidly put into practice in clinical treatments, e-mental health tools, health professional training and community education.

With FGG directed funds of $253,192 received in October 2016, Black Dog Institute has established the Centre for Research Excellence in Youth Suicide Prevention, aimed at reducing youth suicide using technological interventions.

In 2017, focus groups were undertaken to inform the design, development and testing of our mobile-based text messaging system which provides follow-up care for youth discharged from hospital following a suicide attempt – a key risk period for a repeat attempt. Black Dog are working with three hospitals (in NSW and Queensland) to recruit patients to now trial the system.

During 2017, Black Dog undertook a feasibility pilot in a NSW high school of its Socialise app. This app uses Bluetooth to detect a young person's withdrawal from social connectedness, which can indicate onset of depression or suicidal thoughts. Since establishing feasibility, Black Dog have further refined this technology. They are working with the University of NSW to trial the app with students, to evaluate the relationship between sensor data and mental health.

Black Dog looks forward to initiating its third project in 2018, to develop and evaluate an intervention to address suicidal thoughts.

Charity Report

The Brain and Mind Centre develops clinical, online and treatment programs for young people with emerging anxiety and depressive disorders. It partners with other FGG charities including Orygen, headspace, Black Dog Institute and ReachOut Australia.

Funding from FGG of $237,181, received in October 2016, supported the installation of clinical assessment and longitudinal tracking tools initially at five sites in NSW (Camperdown, Darlinghurst, Campbelltown, Ashfield and the Central Coast), followed by other sites in NSW and then interstate.

The Centre will use new and emerging technologies to detail psychological, cognitive, social and medical characteristics and plan individualised intervention. The project links a network of stand-alone primary care clinics. It will enable an estimated 20,000 young people over five years to use these new systems. So far, data has been collected primarily from five headspace sites within the Central and Eastern Sydney Primary Health Network. This work is now being rapidly expanded to additional sites across Australia through which research is more specifically focusing on configuring the Youth Platform to younger people (aged 12 to 15 years), Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander peoples as well as suicide prevention. Iterative preliminary data analyses suggest more efficient recognition of suicidal ideation, more effective treatment rates, increased participation in employment or education as well as a reduction in alcohol and/or other substance misuse.

The Butterfly Foundation for Eating Disorders is committed to ensuring that any Australian with an eating disorder can access affordable, evidence-based care irrespective of their postcode or economic status. In addition to its advocacy work to raise awareness about eating disorders, Butterfly provides education, community-based recovery support and treatment services. The FGG funding of $291,381 received in October 2016 enabled Butterfly to establish the Butterfly Youth Intensive Outpatient Program. The hallmark of the program is its holistic approach and the involvement of families in supporting recovery and offers intensive early intervention in the form of group therapy for young people who are experiencing disordered eating, the early signs and symptoms or a diagnosis of an eating disorder.

Butterfly has partnered with headspace (Chatswood and Brookvale) to identify and refer potential clients. In the Program's first year, 16 young people (aged between 14 and 24 years of age) with early signs and symptoms of disordered eating or an eating disorder were enrolled in the 10 week program. The program has seen high client engagement and the therapists have worked with clients to reduce symptoms and behaviours and to develop their self-management skills. All clients have been assisted in their connections to community-based therapy post discharge from the program.

Initiated in 2006, headspace is the Australian Government's major investment in youth mental health for 12-25 year olds. There are currently 100 headspace centres across Australia working with more than 600 community organisations.

With FGG's funding of $235,259 received in October 2016, headspace piloted an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Mental Health Traineeship Program in the Northern Territory. This program successfully employed and mentored two young people as Youth Engagement Trainees. Through the support of headspace Darwin and a project coordinator, the trainees have developed and facilitated a range of youth and community engagement activities across Darwin and in surrounding rural Aboriginal Communities increasing the awareness of headspace programs and increasing the mental health literacy of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander young people. The trainees are expected to graduate from their Certificate IV in Mental Health in early 2018 and secure sustainable employment in the youth and wellbeing sector in the Northern Territory.

Orygen – the National Centre of Excellence in Youth Mental Health was established in 2002. Orygen is widely regarded as one of the world's leading research organisations focusing on mental ill-health in young people. Orygen's work has driven a shift in services and treatments to focus on early intervention.

FGG funding of $213,194, received in October 2016, has enabled Orygen to commence the development of a comprehensive place-based program of research across North and West Melbourne, which was officially launched in September 2017 with a community leaders forum, held ahead of World Suicide Prevention Day and hosted in partnership with the local community.

To date the work has had three key foci. The first has been on supporting young people who present for help for self-harm, by working with local Emergency Departments. Although many young people who engage in self-harm do not present to hospital Emergency Departments for help, those that do are often met with negative attitudes and receive inadequate treatment. They are also at increased risk of further self-harm and suicide. Orygen are conducting a series of consultations to examine the barriers to delivering the best treatment possible, from the perspective of both Emergency Department staff and young people who have attended an Emergency Department following self-harm or a suicide attempt. Orygen also now collects monthly data reports from four separate Emergency Departments to examine the number, demographics and characteristics of presentations for self-harm and suicide-related behaviour. Ultimately it is expected that this work will lead to the development of a range of interventions designed to improve clinical practice. The second project focuses upon carers of young people who self-harm. Caring for a young person who engages in self-harm can be confusing and overwhelming, and many parents struggle to understand this behaviour. Orygen are therefore developing a resource to support parents and carers, based on up-to-date evidence and the lived experience of others.

The third focus has been on capacity building of mental health professionals. In order to facilitate on-going support of at-risk young people, FGG funding has allowed Orygen to provide comprehensive, evidence-based training to headspace clinicians and other allied health professionals, on how to identify young people at risk of suicide, and on best practice in terms of formulating appropriate risk-assessments and safety planning strategies.

ReachOut Australia is the leading e-mental health service for young people and their parents. Offering practical support, tools and tips help young people get through anything from everyday issues to tough times – there is also a service to help parents to help their teenagers too. ReachOut is accessed by 132,000 people in Australia every month - more than 1.58 million each year.

Year One funding from FGG of $236,881, received in October 2016, allowed ReachOut's research team to investigate the barriers and challenges that young people living in regional and rural areas face. This work included workshops with young people in their community and consultation with service professionals to understand their challenges too. These findings were then turned into recommendations for service improvements and innovations so that we better meet the needs and improve mental health outcomes of young people living in these areas. In the past six months, funding from FGG has seen a range of multimedia content scoped which responds to the challenges that young people in these areas face. Over the coming year, these content pieces will be developed with young people and distributed with a view to increase the number of young people at high risk of developing a mental health issue, accessing appropriate services. Alongside this, funds will be used to pilot a new program in a rural school, as well as run campaigns in targeted communities, building awareness of ReachOut.com to help support and improve the mental health outcomes of an additional 87,744 rural and regional Australians as well as improve the user experience of 96,000 young people currently using ReachOut in remote and rural areas.

SANE AUSTRALIA

SANE Australia is a national mental health charity working to improve the wellbeing of all Australians affected by complex mental illness. Four strategic pillars – better support, stronger connections, less discrimination and longer lives - guide SANE's work in mental health awareness, online peer support and information, stigma reduction, specialist helpline support, research and advocacy.

FGG funding of $214,790, received in October 2016, helped SANE actively target young adults aged 18 to 30 at risk of, or experiencing, complex mental illness (and their families and carers), promoting access to evidence-based services, resources, information and referral pathways to help reduce self-stigma and encourage help seeking behaviours. SANE's focus on this transitional age bracket reflects the unique set of psychological, physiological and social stressors for young people affected by complex mental health concerns, with the age of onset for Schizophrenia, Bipolar, Personality Disorders, Bulimia, and Binge Eating Disorder etc., more likely to occur in emerging adulthood.

During the first year of the initiative, 4.7 million Australians were reached through an integrated awareness campaign targeting 18-30 year olds, coinciding with 2017 Schizophrenia Awareness Week. Over 375,000 young adults accessed information on sane.org; while there was a 28% increase in young adults participating in the SANE Lived Experience program. A baseline of young adults with complex mental health concerns accessing the integrated SANE Help Centre service was established at 20% of total contacts each year, and almost 30% of visitors accessing information via SANE's website in the last year were young adults.

On 19 May 2017, the Federal Government enacted laws reducing the corporate tax rate to 27.5% for companies with turnover below $10 million in the income tax year ended 30 June 2017. The turnover of the Company for the 2017 income tax year is less than $10 million and therefore, it is eligible for the reduced corporate tax rate of 27.5%. As the turnover of the Company for the 2017 income tax year is under the aggregate turnover threshold for the 2018 income tax year, the maximum franking rate applicable for dividends in the 2018 income year is 27.5%, in line with its reduced corporate tax rate. There has been no impact to the franked dividend paid by the Company in October 2016 (1.0 cent per share), as a result of the legislation change. The franked dividend paid in October 2017 was franked in line with the reduced corporate tax rate of 27.5% applicable at the time, under the current legislation.

An amendment to limit the entities subject to the lower corporate tax rate has been introduced by the Federal Government. The Treasury Laws Amendment (Enterprise Tax Plan Base Rate Entities) Bill 2017 amends the law to limit the lower corporate tax rate to base rate entities with no more than 80% passive income. If these measures are passed, it is expected that the Company will no longer be eligible for the reduced corporate tax rate.

(A) BASIS OF PREPARATION

The Company is a for-profit entity for the purpose of preparing the financial statements.

Material accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are presented below and have been consistently applied unless stated otherwise.

(i) Compliance with IFRS

The financial statements of the Company also comply with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB).

(ii) Historical cost convention

These financial statements have been prepared under the accruals basis and are based on historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss or through other comprehensive income.

(iii) Change in financial year end

In November 2016, the Company announced a change in its financial year end from 30 June to 31 December to better align the reporting periods of the Company to the underlying fund manager distributions. This report covers the year from 1 January 2017 to 31 December 2017. The comparative data in this report is for the transitional period from 1 July 2016 to 31 December 2016.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

(C) INVESTMENTS AND OTHER FINANCIAL ASSETS

Classification

Recognition and derecognition

The Company has designated long-term investments in unlisted unit trusts as 'fair value through other comprehensive income'. All gains and losses on long-term investments and tax thereon are presented in other comprehensive income as part of the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Purchases and sales of financial assets are recognised on trade-date, the date on which the Company commits to purchase or sell the asset. Financial assets are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the financial assets have expired or have been transferred and the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership.

Measurement

At initial recognition, the Company measures a financial asset at its fair value. Transaction costs for financial assets carried at fair value through other comprehensive income are included as part of the initial measurement.

Subsequent changes in fair value for financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income are recognised through the investment portfolio revaluation reserve after deducting a provision for the potential deferred capital gains tax liability as these investments are long-term holding of equity investments.

When an instrument held at fair value through other comprehensive income is disposed, the cumulative gain or loss, net of tax thereon, is transferred from the investment portfolio revaluation reserve to the investment portfolio realised gains/losses reserve.

Determination of Fair Value

AASB 13 Fair Value Measurement defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date in the principal, or in its absence, the most advantageous market to which the Company has access at that date. The fair value of a liability reflects its non-performance risk.

The Company's accounting policy on fair value is disclosed in Note 18.

The Board of Directors values the Company's investments in unlisted unit trusts using the unit prices derived from the unaudited net assets of the unlisted unit trusts.

(D) FOREIGN CURRENCY TRANSLATION

(i) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates (the functional currency). The financial statements are presented in Australian dollars, which is Future Generation Global Investment Company Limited's functional and presentation currency.

(ii) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at year end exchange rates are generally recognised in profit or loss. They are deferred in equity if they are attributable to part of the net investment in a foreign operation.

Non-monetary items that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined. Translation differences on assets and liabilities carried at fair value are reported as part of the fair value gain or loss. For example, translation differences on non-monetary assets such as equities classified as available-for-sale financial assets are recognised in other comprehensive income.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

(E) INCOME TAX

The Company is subject to income taxes in the jurisdictions in which it operates. Significant judgement is required in determining the provision for income tax. There are many transactions and calculations undertaken during the ordinary course of business for which the ultimate tax determination is uncertain. The Company recognises liabilities for anticipated tax audit issues based on the Company's current understanding of the tax law. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the carrying amounts, such differences will impact the current and deferred tax provisions in the period in which such determination is made.

The income tax expense or revenue for the period is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate for each jurisdiction adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period. The Board periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred income tax is provided in full, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements. Deferred income tax is also not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the entity has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

(F) IMPAIRMENT OF ASSETS

At each reporting date, the Company reviews the carrying values of its non-financial assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets may be impaired. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use, is compared to the asset's carrying value. Any excess of the asset's carrying value over its recoverable amount is expensed to the Statement of comprehensive income.

(G) CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

For the purpose of presentation in the Statement of Cash Flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand and deposits held at call with financial institutions.

(H) TRADE RECEIVABLES

Trade and other receivables are non-derivative financial assets and are stated at their amortised cost.

(I) TRADE AND OTHER PAYABLES

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Company prior to the end of financial period which are unpaid. The amounts are unsecured and are usually paid within 30 days of recognition. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months from the reporting date. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

(J) ISSUED CAPITAL

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

(K) PROFITS RESERVE

A profits reserve has been created representing an amount allocated on a monthly basis from retained earnings that is preserved for future dividend payments.

(L) DIVIDENDS

Provision is made for the amount of any dividend declared, being appropriately authorised and no longer at the discretion of the entity, on or before the end of the reporting period but not distributed at the end of the reporting period.

In accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, the Company may pay a dividend where the Company's assets exceed its liabilities, the payment of the dividend is fair and reasonable to the Company's shareholders as a whole and the payment of the dividend does not materially prejudice the Company's ability to pay its creditors.

(M) EARNINGS PER SHARE

(i) Basic earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing:

- the profit attributable to shareholders of the Company, excluding any costs of servicing equity other than ordinary shares.
- by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the financial period, adjusted for bonus elements in ordinary shares issued during the year.

(ii) Diluted earnings per share

Diluted earnings per share adjusts the figures used in the determination of basic earnings per share to take into account:

- the after income tax effect of interest and other financing costs associated with dilutive potential ordinary shares, and
- the weighted average number of additional ordinary shares that would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive potential ordinary shares.

(N) GOODS AND SERVICES TAX (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of associated GST, unless the GST incurred is not recoverable from the taxation authority. In this case it is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense. Where applicable, the Company qualifies for Reduced Input Tax Credits (RITC) at a rate of at least 75%; hence fees for these services have been recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income net of the amount of GST recoverable from the taxation authority.

Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of the amount of GST receivable or payable. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included with other receivables or payables in the Statement of Financial Position.

Cash flows are presented on a gross basis. The GST components of cash flows arising from investing or financing activities which are recoverable from, or payable to the taxation authority, are presented as operating cash flows.

(O) ROUNDING OF AMOUNTS

The Company is of a kind referred to in ASIC Corporations Instrument 2016/191 issued by the ASIC, relating to the 'rounding off' of amounts in the Financial Statements. Amounts in the financial statements have been rounded off in accordance with that Class Order to the nearest thousand dollars, or in certain cases, the nearest dollar, unless otherwise indicated.

3. Investment income from ordinary activities

As at 31 December 2017, the investment portfolio was made up of 14 global fund managers with investments in 15 unlisted unit trusts.

The aggregated amount of management and performance fees foregone by the unit trusts with a zero fee unit class for the year ended 31 December 2017 was $0.9 million (2016: $0.5 million).

17. Financial risk management

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risks (including foreign currency risk, price risk and interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Board of the Company has implemented a risk management framework to mitigate these risks.

(A) MARKET RISK

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices.

(i) Foreign exchange risk

Exposure

The Company holds both monetary and non-monetary assets denominated in currencies other than the Australian dollar. Foreign exchange risk arises as the value of monetary securities denominated in other currencies will fluctuate due to changes in exchange rates. The foreign exchange risk relating to non-monetary assets and liabilities is a component of price risk not foreign exchange risk. However, the Company monitors the exposure on all foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities.

The Company does not hedge against its foreign exchange exposure, and consequently, the impact of foreign exchange movements are directly reflected within other comprehensive income.

17. Financial risk management (continued)

The Board and Investment Committee formulate views on the future direction of foreign exchange rates and the potential impact on the Company and these are factored into its asset allocation decisions. While the Company has direct exposure to foreign exchange rate changes on the price of non Australian dollar-denominated investments, it may also be indirectly affected by the impact of foreign exchange rate changes on the earnings of certain funds in which the Company invests, even if those funds are denominated in Australian dollars. For that reason, the sensitivity analysis below may not necessarily indicate the total effect on the Company's equity of future movements in foreign exchange rates.

The table below summarises the Company's financial assets and liabilities, monetary and non-monetary, which are denominated in US dollars.

	31 December 2017	31 December 2016
	$'000	$'000
Cash and cash equivalents	19,514	16,124
Trade and other receivables	59	244
Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income	45,616	44,955
	65,189	61,323

Sensitivity

The following table illustrates the sensitivities of the Company's monetary assets and liabilities to foreign exchange risk. The analysis is based on the assumption that the Australian dollar weakened and strengthened by 10% against the US dollar.

Impact on net profit/(loss)	31 December 2017		31 December 2016
	-10%	+10%	-10%	+10%
	$'000	$'000	$'000	$'000
Cash and cash equivalents	(1,952)	1,952	(1,612)	1,612
Trade and other receivables	(5)	5	(24)	24
Receivable for units redeemed	-	-	-	-
	(1,957)	1,957	(1,636)	1,636

(ii) Price risk

Exposure

The Company is exposed to price risk on its investments in unlisted unit trusts. This arises from investments held by the Company and classified in the Statement of Financial Position as financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income.

The Company seeks to manage and constrain market risk by diversification of the investment portfolio across a number of prominent global equity fund managers with a focus on three broad strategies – long equities, absolute bias and quantitative strategies.

Sensitivity

The following table illustrates the effect on the Company's equity from possible changes in other market risk that were reasonably possible based on the risk the Company was exposed to at reporting date, assuming a flat tax rate of 27.5%:

Impact on other components of equity	31 December 2017	31 December 2016
MSCI AC World Index (AUD)	$'000	$'000
Change in variable +/-5%	12,209	10,150
Change in variable +/-10%	24,417	20,299

Other components of equity would increase/decrease as a result of gains/losses on financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income.

(iii) Cash flow and fair value interest rate risk

Exposure

The Company's interest bearing financial assets expose it to risks associated with the effects of fluctuations in the prevailing levels of market interest rates on its financial position and cash flows.

The table below summarises the Company's exposure to interest rate risks. It includes the Company's assets and liabilities at fair values, categorised by the earlier of contractual repricing or maturity dates.

At 31 December 2017	Floating interest rate	Fixed interest rate	Non-interest bearing	Total
Financial Assets	$'000	$'000	$'000	$'000
Cash and cash equivalents	25,073	-	-	25,073

(iii) Cash flow and fair value interest rate risk (continued)

At 31 December 2016	Floating interest rate	Fixed interest rate	Non-interest bearing	Total
	$'000	$'000	$'000	$'000
Financial Assets
Cash and cash equivalents	16,605	-	-	16,605

Financial Liabilities	$'000	$'000	$'000	$'000
Trade and other payables	-	-	(134)	(134)
Total financial liabilities	-	-	(134)	(134)
Net exposure	16,605	-	290,532	307,137

Sensitivity

Profit or loss is sensitive to higher/lower interest income from cash and cash equivalents as a result of changes in interest rates.

At 31 December 2017, if interest rates had increased by 100 basis points (bps) or decreased by 100 bps from the period end rates with all other variables held constant, post-tax profit for the period would have been $251,000 higher/$251,000 lower (2016 changes of 100bps: $116,000 higher/$116,000 lower), mainly as a result of higher/lower interest income from cash and cash equivalents.

(B) CREDIT RISK

Credit risk is defined as the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation.

The maximum exposure to credit risk, excluding the value of any collateral or other security, at balance date to recognised financial assets, is the carrying amount, net of any provisions for impairment of those assets, as disclosed in the Statement of Financial Position and Notes to the Financial Statements.

Credit risk is managed as noted in Note 13 with respect to cash and cash equivalents and Note 8 for trade and other receivables. None of these assets are overdue or considered to be impaired.

(C) LIQUIDITY RISK

Liquidity risk is defined as the risk that an entity will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities.

The Board and Investment Committee monitors the Company's cash-flow requirements in relation to the investing account taking into account upcoming dividends, tax payments and investing activity.

The Company's inward cash flows depend upon the level of distribution and interest revenue received and the exercise of options that may be on issue from time to time. Should these decrease by a material amount, the Company would amend its outward cash flows accordingly. As the Company's major cash outflows are the purchase of securities and dividends paid to shareholders, the level of both of these is managed by the Board and Investment Committee.

Prudent liquidity risk management implies maintaining sufficient cash and marketable securities. The Company's cash is held at call which mitigates liquidity risk.

Maturities of financial liabilities

The following table analyses the Company's non-derivative financial liabilities into relevant maturity groupings based on their contractual maturities at period end.

The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows. Balances due within 12 months equal their carrying balances as the impact of discounting is not significant.

31 December 2017	Less than 1 month	1-12 months	Between 1 - 5 years	Total contractual undiscounted cash flows
Non-derivatives	$'000	$'000	$'000	$'000
Trade and other payables	87	-	-	87
Total non-derivatives	87	-	-	87

31 December 2016	Less than 1 month	1-12 months	Between 1 - 5 years	Total contractual undiscounted cash flows
Non-derivatives	$'000	$'000	$'000	$'000
Trade and other payables	134	-	-	134
Total non-derivatives	134	-	-	134

18. Fair value measurements

The Company measures and recognises financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income on a recurring basis.

The Company has no assets or liabilities measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis in the current reporting period.

(A) FAIR VALUE HIERARCHY

AASB 13 requires disclosure of fair value measurements by level of the following fair value measurement hierarchy (consistent with the hierarchy applied to financial assets and financial liabilities):

- Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly
- Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs)

18. Fair value measurements (continued)

(A) FAIR VALUE HIERARCHY (CONTINUED)

(i) Recognised fair value measurements

The following table presents the Company's financial assets and liabilities measured and recognised at fair value at 31 December 2017 on a recurring basis.

At 31 December 2017	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	31 December 2017
Financial assets at FVTOCI	$'000	$'000	$'000	$'000
Unlisted unit trusts	-	336,793	-	336,793
Total financial assets	-	336,793	-	336,793

At 31 December 2016	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	31 December 2016
Financial assets at FVTOCI	$'000	$'000	$'000	$'000
Unlisted unit trusts	-	289,991	-	289,991
Total financial assets	-	289,991	-	289,991

There were no transfers between levels for recurring fair value measurements during the year. The Company's policy is to recognise transfers into and transfers out of fair value hierarchy levels as at the end of the reporting period.

(ii) Disclosed fair values

For all financial instruments other than those measured at fair value their carrying value approximates fair value.

The carrying amounts of trade and other receivables and payables are assumed to approximate their fair values due to their short-term nature.

(B) VALUATION TECHNIQUES USED TO DETERMINE FAIR VALUE

Recurring fair value measurements

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques. These valuation techniques maximise the use of observable market data where it is available and rely as little as possible on entity specific estimates. If all significant inputs required to fair value an instrument are observable, the instrument is included in level 2.

The Board of Directors value the Company's investments in unlisted unit trusts using the unit prices derived from the unaudited net asset backing of the unlisted unit trusts at the end of the period.

19. Critical accounting estimates and judgements

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that may have a financial impact on the Company and that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND ASSUMPTIONS

The Company makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results.

Deferred tax asset

Deferred tax asset has been recognised on unused losses on the basis that the Company will generate future taxable profits to utilise the tax losses.

The Company has one reporting segment. The Company is engaged solely in investing in unlisted unit trusts and deriving income from cash and cash equivalents.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Members of Future Generation Global Investment Company Limited
A.B.N. 52 606 110 838

REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL REPORTOpinion

We have audited the accompanying financial report of Future Generation Global Investment Company Limited (the Company), which comprises the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2017, the statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, notes comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information and the Directors' Declaration.

In our opinion the accompanying financial report of Future Generation Global Investment Company Limited is in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, including:

- i. giving a true and fair view of the Company's financial position as at 31 December 2017 and of its financial performance for the year ended; and
- ii. complying with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

Basis of Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Those standards require that we comply with relevant ethical requirements relating to audit engagements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial report is free from material misstatement. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibility section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants ("the Code") that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the financial report of the current period. We have communicated the key audit matters to the Audit Committee, but they are not a comprehensive reflection of all matters that were identified by our audit and that were discussed with the Committee. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial report as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the matter
Existence, Valuation, and Classification of Financial Assets Refer to Note 9: Financial Assets at fair value through other comprehensive income, and Note 18: Fair Value Measurements
We focused our audit effort on the valuation, existence and ownership of the Company's financial assets as they are its largest assets and represent the most significant driver of the Company's net tangible assets and results. The quantum of investments held inherently makes financial assets a key audit matter, in addition however, there may be judgements involved in determining the fair value of investments. In relation to financial assets, there is also a risk that these are not owned by the Company or do not exist. We therefore identified valuation, existence, and ownership of financial assets as an area of focus.	Our procedures included, amongst others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Reviewing the reports on internal controls (ASAE 3402 Assurance Reports on Controls at a Service Organisation), for the period 1 January 2017 to 30 June 2017, and 1 July 2017 to 31 December 2017 for the Administrator; ▪ Agreeing the investment holdings to investment holding statements from fund managers or trustees of the investee entities; ▪ Agreeing on a sample basis the units purchased, and the price, to purchase agreements or investment holding statements from the fund managers or trustees of the investee entities; ▪ Assessing the valuation by agreeing the units held and the exit price as at 31 December 2017 to reported unit pricing from investment holding statements and compared the value of investments to the valuation report of the Company; ▪ For a sample of investments held at balance date, obtaining their latest audited accounts and performing procedures including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Recalculating the net asset value and comparing it to the reported unit price; - Considering the appropriateness of accounting policies; and - Confirming that the audit opinion is unmodified; ▪ Evaluating the appropriateness of the accounting treatment of revaluations of financial assets for current/deferred tax and realised/unrealised gains or losses; and ▪ Assessing the adequacy of disclosures in the financial statements.

Other information

The Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information in the Company's financial report for the year ended 31 December 2017, but does not include the financial report and the auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial report does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial report, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially consistent with the financial report or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Directors for the Financial Report

The Directors of Future Generation Global Investment Company Limited are responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Act 2001 and for such internal controls as the Directors determine are necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, the Directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Directors either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of this financial report.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal controls;
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal controls;

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Directors;
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern; and
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the Directors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Directors with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with the Directors, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial report of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Responsibilities

The Directors of Future Generation Global Investment Company Limited are responsible for the preparation and presentation of the Remuneration Report in accordance with section 300A of the Corporations Act 2001.
