About Tribeca Investment Partners

Tribeca is a specialist, active investment, and advisory firm.

Leveraging its multi-asset class expertise across equities, credit and natural resources, Tribeca has demonstrated a track record of investment innovation. It offers bespoke access to investment strategies and opportunities not available to all market participants.

Its active management style allows for targeted opportunism and a nimble approach to identifying value in areas of the market which are less understood or researched.

With key staff located in Sydney, Melbourne and Singapore, Tribeca has deep connectivity across the Asia-Pacific region which it is able to leverage on behalf of its asset management, wealth management and corporate advisory clients.

Tribeca Investment Partners

Investment style

The Tribeca Alpha Plus Fund has been managed by Portfolio Manager Jun Bei Liu since 2019 and offers investors an actively managed long/short investment approach to Australian equities. The fund leverages off the strengths of both quantitative and fundamental styles of investing. Quantitative investing brings breadth and objectivity to the process by exploiting behavioural biases in the market. Fundamental investing gives depth of insight and conviction by identifying high quality businesses with strong fundamentals. The Fund has delivered strong absolute and relative performance outcomes since inception.

High-conviction holding

A structural growth company with a dominant market position in Australia and a number of fast growth markets offshore, Seek (ASX: SEK) has had an incredible track record of delivering strong revenue growth within the domestic market despite its maturity and market penetration. Its domestic Australian business is expected to grow by at least 15% for the next three years, driven by volume and premium product penetration, and Tribeca expect to see incremental improvement in its South-East Asian business. An investment in Seek currently also includes an 84.5% investment in its highly sought after growth fund which has a strong track record investing in early stage businesses.

Market outlook

Tribeca remains positive as the equity market is underpinned by a strong earnings recovery from corporates and a continued accommodative rates environment. The recent reporting season has shown incredible earnings growth, beating even the most bullish expectations. Despite labour shortages and supply chain disruptions, reopening economies continue to gather momentum and Tribeca expects high single digit earnings growth into 2023. Tribeca believes that corporate mergers and actions will continue to be a feature for the next 12 months which will also provide buoyant sentiment towards the end of the year.

Tribeca are of the view that inflation is transitory at this stage, though it has lasted longer than most expected. Tribeca expect that the Reserve Bank of Australia and other central banks will look through the current heightened level of inflation with the aim to return to a normal level of liquidity support for the economy (i.e. reducing coronavirus emergency liquidity support, while maintaining lower rates). Tribeca believe that there will be an alleviation of supply side disruptions in the next six to 12 months and that there have already been encouraging comments from corporates on the reopening of warehouses in the emerging markets.
