Nikko Asset Management Global Share Fund

Our investment style

The Global Equity strategy seeks to achieve long-term capital appreciation by investing in future quality companies with sustainable growth characteristics at attractive valuations which, the investment team believes, will lead to outperformance over the full market cycle. It is a fundamental, bottom-up research strategy; sector and country allocations are a function of stock selection. It is a concentrated, high-conviction portfolio comprised of 40 to 50 stocks.

Our market outlook

Dealing with coronavirus has accelerated changes that were already taking place; the migration of data to the Cloud, the enabling of more flexible working or the shift of healthcare into patients' own homes and out of hospitals. Nikko AM believes that these changes address major societal shifts that will persist long after the development of a vaccine.

Nikko AM has taken profit in some stocks in recognition of them pulling forward of demand and has been investing the proceeds to increase positions in companies that have been negatively impacted by the coronavirus, but hold strong long-term Future Quality credentials. Compass Group (LON: CPG) and HDFC Bank (NYSE: HDB) are good examples.

September saw a marked increase in share price volatility in stocks deemed most insulated from the adverse impacts of the coronavirus. Nikko AM suspects that this volatility will persist for some time as the real strengths of economies are revealed. With other asset classes looking more expensively valued than equities, Nikko AM remains constructive on markets.

Why we support Future Generation

Nikko AM strongly believes that considering environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors is inherent to long-term corporate value creation, and contributes to the realisation of the company's sustainable growth. Supporting Future Generation Global aligns with Nikko AM's core company values and the United Nations' sustainable development goals. Nikko AM believes that giving back to society is a key function of a fiduciary and ensures a bright future for the next generation.
