

Future Generation Global appoints Director Hanna Ebeling

Future Generation Global (ASX: FGG) today announces that Hanna Ebeling will join the Company's Board of Directors as an independent Director, effective 25 March 2026.

Ms Ebeling has extensive experience in the not-for-profit and finance sectors. She is the Chief Executive Officer of Social Enterprise Finance Australia (Sefa), a leading Australian impact investment intermediary that provides funding and support to social enterprises and purpose-driven organisations. Since 2019, Ms Ebeling has led Sefa, aligning its financial and charitable activities under a shared strategy and enabling the organisation to provide flexible finance and tailored support to impact led organisations.

Ms Ebeling's experience structuring scalable capital solutions for impact organisations will support the Board's focus on long-term investment performance, sustainable growth in funds under management and enhance shareholder value.

Jennifer Westacott AC, Chair of Future Generation Global said: "Ms Ebeling has demonstrated that rigorous financial leadership and social purpose can go hand in hand. Through her role at Sefa, she has shown how strategic finance can drive meaningful social outcomes. Her experience in structuring capital, managing investments and growing social impact organisations makes her an outstanding addition to the Future Generation Global Board. This expertise will be a valuable asset as Future Generation Global continues to strengthen its support for youth mental health."

Prior to her executive leadership, Ms Ebeling held senior roles in impact investing at LGT Venture Philanthropy, supporting social enterprises in Southeast Asia, and in global private banking at HSBC, gaining expertise in investment management, client advisory, and structured finance.

Ms Ebeling serves on the Board of Vanguard Laundry, an Australian social enterprise providing employment pathways for people facing barriers to work, and until November 2025 was on the Board of Woodville Alliance, a Western Sydney community organisation supporting disability, early learning, and family services, demonstrating her commitment to using finance to drive social impact. She is also a CFA charter holder.

This announcement has been authorised by the Board of Future Generation Global Limited.

Hanna Ebeling

Hanna Ebeling is CEO at Sefa, providing flexible finance and tailored advice for impact-led organisations to grow, build resilience, and create sustainable change. From traditional banking with HSBC to venture philanthropy in the Philippines, Hanna brings a global practice lens to Sefa. Her passions include blended finance in partnership with foundations, community-led enterprises, and ground-breaking housing models. She is on the board of social enterprise Vanguard Laundry, and as a former and current member of government and sector reference groups contributes to improving for-purpose collaborations between government, philanthropy and the private sector.

Hanna holds a B.A. in Economics from the University of St. Gallen, Switzerland, is a CFA charter holder and a graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors.

About Future Generation

Future Generation Australia (ASX: FGX) and Future Generation Global (ASX: FGG) are Australia's first listed investment companies that offer both investment and social returns.

Future Generation provides shareholders with exposure to leading Australian and global fund managers with the aim of delivering long-term capital growth, a stream of fully franked dividends and preserving shareholder capital.

This group of leading fund managers manage $1.4 billion in assets on a pro bono basis, waiving their management and performance fees, which allows the Future Generation companies to donate 1% of their average net tangible assets each year to our social impact partners and other not-for-profit organisations.

Since inception, the Future Generation companies have donated $100 million in Australian not-for-profit organisations.

Future Generation has also launched Future Generation Women, Australia's first philanthropic women's investment fund. As an unlisted trust, Future Generation Women aims to deliver investment returns through a combination of income and capital growth, while making tangible strides towards gender equality in Australia.
